The " Epitome de la Bibliotheca Oriental y Occidental, Nautica y Geographica, de Don Antonio de Leon Pinelo," fol°. Madrid, 1737, Titulo x. " Historias del Rio de la Plata, & Paraguay," being very defective in the Chronological Order; I have placed the Authors according to their dates, as far as I was able, and have added such Authorities, as I have found, omitted by Pinelo, with some remarks.

P°. denotes Pinelo. B A Bibliotheca Americana, 1789. B M British Museum. M Muratori. * In the Library of D.

Laurens Bickers, a Dutchman, Pinelo refers to " Laet," New World, fol. 513, for the Navigation to the Rio de la Plata, with its Description, in Dutch. P°.

I have the French Edition, by the Elzevers, of

* Juan de Laet, Leyden, f°. 1611. The Notes from Laurens Bickers, a Dutchman, are very brief, not deserving the name of " Navigation to Rio de la Plata, and its Description": unless those by a certain Dutchman, are also Bickers'; but I should not suppose, from the context, that they were: B 14, Ch 12, De Laet gives the Track of a certain Dutchman from Buenos Ayres to Potosi, P 467 to 469, and adds the same Track according to others, P 469, 470. The Pages in this Edition concerning La Plata are from 452 to 472, but the date, 1611, is obviously erroneous, because P 444 Strait Le Maire is

N. B. I presume Francis Hamel and Francis La Hier, have published the same Letters, the former, in French, 1642, the latter, in Latin, 1657.

1639 P. Antonio Ruys de Montoya, printed 4°. in Spanish, "History of the Conquest of Paraguay." P°.

1638 to 1643 } P. Adam Shirmbeck, or (according to Muratori) Schimbeck, 12°. printed in Latin, 1649. P°.

8°. 1712, is referred to, by Pinelo, as giving an "Abstract of Techo," but it does not appear to me that Woodes Rogers gives an Abstract of Techo: vide P 74 in Edition 8°. London, 1712.

46 * P. Alonso D'Ovagle, in his "History of Chili," Rome, f°. 1646, in Italian, gives some Account of part of Paraguay, which is quoted by,

* M. Thevenot in his Introduction to Acarette's Voyage.

* D'Ovagle is translated into English from the Spanish, in 3d Vol. P 1 to 154 of Churchill's Collection, 1704, from which it appears to have been also printed at Rome in 1649, in Spanish.

It is extraordinary that D'Ovagle, or Ovalle, as he is sometimes called, should have written in Italian: being a Native of Chili.

649 Juan Navarro, Testimonial of the formation of 17 Parishes by Don Christoval de la Mancha Velasco, Bishop of Assumption, upon Rio de la Plata and Uruguay, 22d December, 1649, printed f°. P°.

1657 * M. de Acaret, Voyage to Rio de la Plata, and from thence to Peru by Land, 1667. Printed 1672, in French.

Melchisedec Thevenot, places it in Part 3. Vol. II. of his Relations. P°.

* Melchisedec Thevenot, was the Editor of a very valuable Collection of Voyages and Travels, but this Collection appears to have been published in seperate parts, and afterwards collected, as they are differently arranged in different Copies: after Thevenot's death some copies were made out with cancelled sheets.

In the Advertisement, which precedes the Privilege, giving an Account of the Contents of this Part, which is the 4th and not the 3d of Vol. II. Thevenot says "The Voyage to Peru appeared to "me very curious; I can say nothing more of the "Author, who I only know under the name of "Sieur Acarette, which is perhaps a fictitious "name; but I may well add to what he says of "his Voyage to Peru, what Père Ovalle has left us." Here he inserts some observations from Ovalle.

Thevenot in the Text entitles this Piece "Re-"lation of the Voyage of Sieur ..... in the "River Plate, and from thence by Land to Peru, "and the Observations he made there."

* ——— It was translated into English in 1698, London, 8°.[a] but instead of Acarette he is named in this Translation Monsieur Acarete du Biscay, but on what authority I cannot tell; though it appears not to be fact, that he was a Biscayan, for the Author himself mentions remaining in Spain to learn the language, and that he went to Rio de la Plata in 1657, under a false name, to conceal his being a Stranger.

In these Volumes are many curious Documents; amongst others a Memorial recommending Buenos Ayres as the most commodious way to bring the Silver of Potosi, to Spain! The same proposition had been repeatedly made, but the Spanish Government do not seem to have adopted it till 1777 or 1778, when Potosi was placed under Buenos Ayres, instead of Lima. The Volume contains about 400 pages: An Introduction explains the Idiom of the Language; Then follows the Vocabulary of the Words in the Guarani Language, with copious examples of their expressions. British Museum.

It would be of the greatest use to reprint This with an English Translation, mutually to assist the English in learning the Guarani Language, and the Natives in acquiring English.

It also contains a Chart of the Rio de la Plata, which, however, I presume was in the 7th or 8th Number of the 1st Edition: The Soundings are considerably different in this Chart from what I have seen elsewhere; but I do not know what confidence it deserves.

* Don Felix D'Azara. Essai, &c. Translated by M. L. E. Moreau-Saint-Mery. Essay on the Natural History of Quadrupeds, of the Province of Paraguay, written in 1783 to 1796. Paris, 2 Vol. 8°.

The Author, a Captain in the Spanish Navy, was Commissioner for The King of Spain, to settle the Limits of the Spaniards and Portuguese in South America.

The Translator, in a Preface, gives a List of The following Works by D'Azara;

Several Maps, of the Provinces, of the New World, which he had passed through.

Geographical Works, with explanatory Memoirs.

Historical, Physical, Political and Geographical Description of the Province of Paraguay, from the discovery to the present time, with an Enquiry concerning several Tribes, or Nations, of Savage Indians, whose languages he had studied and learnt, and concerning whom he gives a multitude of details unknown in Europe: The whole enriched with a Map of the Province of Paraguay, and with another, intended to shew the Course of the River of that Name, both laid down by Don Felix D'Azara; Besides the Plan of the City of Assumption, and those, of several other principal Places of the Province of Paraguay.

The Translator says, " The Maps, of several Provinces of South " America, are still in the possession of the Author, who, for the publi- " cation, waits either his return to Europe, or more favourable circum- " stances for sending them by Sea.

" It is 7 or 8 years since Don Felix D'Azara sent to his Brother, " M. Le Bailli D'Azara, these geographical Works, and the Memoirs " relative to them. But as the Latter, was then Ambassador at Rome, " and could not attend to the delivery of these precious Communica- " tions, They have been mislaid, either through the Persons to whom " they were directed at Cadiz, the Custom-house Officers of that Port, " or the Commissioners of the India-Board at Madrid. This Loss, " owing to unpardonable negligence, determined M. Le Bailli D'Azara " to write to Don Felix, not to expose the Originals, and to keep them " till his return home.

" In regard to the Description of Paraguay, and the interesting " Maps, which must make it the more useful, and shew with what " pure zeal Don Felix D'Azara is constantly animated, The Con- " fidence of M. Le Bailli D'Azara has made me the Depositary. I " have already begun the Translation of this unpublished Description, " which deserves, from the City of Assumption, Capital of Paraguay, " to its Author, the Title of distinguished Citizen of that Province.

" At the same time he took care that a Copy of the Map should " remain fixed in the Town House of the City, to render familiar to " all the Inhabitants, The Topography of their Province, and assist in " their decisions The Officers, who ought to have this knowledge for " the ground of their determination.

" The Public will without delay profit by this Portion of Don Felix " D'Azara's Labours.

" The Memoirs concerning the interior of South America and the " Natural History of the Birds of South America are at Rome."
